MEMORANDUM FOR: FILE

SUBJECT

: Meeting with Harold R. NOEMAYR and Oliver R. BYNAM, 7 April 1960, 1800 hours, NOEMAYR's apartment.

- 1. BYNAM delivered a portable typewriter (Olivetti) to NOEMAYR, who signed a hand receipt for it. Some bond paper and carbons were included.
- 2. NORMATE was requested to complete a report on his cover, which had been asked for earlier. He said he would do this promptly now that he had the typewriter.
- 3. BYNAM then questioned NOKMAYR in detail about the extent of knowledge that his relatives and those of his wife had about his work.
 - a. NOEMATR's wife knows that he is engaged in intelligence work for KUBARK. She knows that he must meet agents and that his work concerns penetration of the BOOTPSIES. She does not know any details of his work nor has she met any of the agents he has handled. In Mexico she has spoken on the phone with LIJOINT and LIMAD. NOEMATR made an aside comment in response to BYNAM's query whether LIMAD was of any value, to the extent that LIMAD at least is in the women's movement; and as long as no other better source is available, it would not be wise to drop her.
 - b. NOEMAYR's sister-in-law, Consuelo, who is now living with the NOEMAYR's does not know that NOEMAYR's work is for KUBARK. She knows that he works for ODYOKE in a confidential capacity. NOEMAYR described her as a remarkably simple person for her age with regard to political matters. He said she had neither an awareness nor an interest in such things.

16-15 NOEMAYR had recruited his brother-in-law. c.06 In but received instructions through (Mexico) and San 16-15 Jose Stations to back out of the recruitment; therefore, Mario knows that NOEMATR is associated with ODYOKE intelligence. Mario Communist Party and was to work his had been in the way into the party. When instructions were received to withdraw from the recruitment, NOEMATR intelligently advised Mario to continue to work his way back into the party and that when he was again solidly ensconced there, possibly something could be done about it. Mario never received any money for his trouble either during the consideration of recruitment or since that time. In anticipation of receiving a salary (from KUBARK), he had gone into some debt. NOFMAIR personally helped him out of these obligations with his own funds.

- l. NOEMATR was asked to elicit further data on his sister-inlaw, Consumlo, who is living with him at this time. In particular, he was to get a record of her employment since 1957, including dates, names, addresses and type of work. He said this could be done easily without arousing her suspicions on the basis that he needed the information for income tax purposes since she now counted as his dependent.
- 5. NOEMATR remarked that he had gottem a loan of $700 from the same bank which provided him the loan for the purchase of his automobile and that with this additional loan, he would be able to cover the purchase of whatever furniture he would need. He said that the bank loan would cost him $64.10 per month for twelve (12) months as opposed to something over $66 per month for twelve months had he taken it through the Credit Union. BYNAM asked if he was certain he could carry the two obligations. He said that he had worked the figures out and felt confident that he would have no problem in meeting these obligations. He showed BYNAM a copy of his budget. NOEMAIR said, however, that he is counting on early reimbursement of the temporary housing allowance for his initial month in the United States. BYNAM said he would look into this.

- Discussion dwelt for some time on NOEMAIR's experiences in Cuba. It is obvious that he would like another opportunity to work on this problem. He said that at the time he had more contact with Fidel CASTRO than any other there because of his fluent Spanish. He thought that the good raport that he had had with Castro might possibly at some future time be useful to the organization. He recalled one evening in the Sierra Maestra, when he sat alone at a campfire with Castro, discussing with Castro his problems for a matter of four hours. Castro at that time was anxious to have planes and particularly wanted a heliocopter with an American pilot. HOEMAYR suggested the name of a friend of his in Dayton who could provide the heliocopter and asked Castro what he would be willing to pay. Castro said he would pay $25,000 (US Currency) for the machine and the going rate of salary for the pilot. NOEMATR reported this matter to Headquarters and thought it unfortunate that this had not been capitalized upon since KUBARK could have had a penetration in the Castro immercircle at this time if this proposal had been followed up.
- 8. Next meeting: 13 April 1960, 1800 hours, NOEMAYR's apartment.
